

Statement of Achievements

2023/2024

Presented at the 23rd Annual Conference of the ICN

Costa do Sauipe, Brazil 14-17 May 2024

FOREWORD

Dear ICN members and NGAs,

We are delighted to bring the ICN Annual Conference back to Brazil for a second time after 12 years. At the conference, participants will share experiences and discuss crosscutting issues including new theories of harm, competition in emerging markets, interaction between global markets and local needs in agriculture and food markets, the issue of state-owned enterprises and new developments in the field of artificial intelligence.

It was a short but very successful ICN year. We can look back on an inspiring Advocacy Workshop in Nairobi, Kenya and the very first in-person Technologists Group meeting that took place in Washington DC. In addition, numerous webinars were held and intensive work was carried out in the working groups. The joint work led to work products on topics such as the control of data, market power and potential competition in merger review, recommended practices on non-horizontal mergers, gathering and using information for effective strategic planning and competition law enforcement at the intersection between competition and privacy.

Inclusivity and participation across the network remain at the top of our agenda. Again this year, more than 100 members participated in the ICN check-in, which was set up to confirm members' contact information and solicit direct feedback on ICN activities. We started the revision of the ICN Operational Framework and many group calls were held in which members participated very actively. The intensive work of the Operational Framework working group will continue in the coming ICN year. Our joint work and our efforts to strengthen competition are now more crucial than ever. In these increasingly difficult times, it is all the more important that the ICN holds the competition community together. Many agencies are facing similar problems, similar political pressure. It is therefore particularly important that we competition agencies come together, discuss and exchange ideas and find joint solutions. As always, we will stream open plenary sessions to give everyone who is not on site the opportunity to participate virtually. In addition, we will come together in closed sessions and discuss topics in more confidential settings.

We thank the competition authorities around the world - younger and more mature, diverse in terms of legal tradition, size, economy, geography, structure and culture. Together they form the ICN. Together, we look forward to a great annual conference in Brazil and we look forward with confidence to a successful ICN year 2024/25.

Best wishes,

Alexandre Cordeiro
